HAIR

Possesses a vitality of its own that often outlives the rest of the physical organism. More frequently, however, either through disease, inherent weakness, or age, it talls off, turns gray, or fades early.

Ayer's Hair Vigor Cures the diseases of the scalp and hair; atrengthens hair that is naturally weak; nourishes and invigorates torpid hair roots, causing a new, vigorous, and luxuriant growth of hair on bald heads; and restores pristine freshness, color, and lustre to faded and gray hair.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR is also a Toilet Luxury Superior to all other preparations for the dressing of the hair. It imparts pliancy, silken softness, lustre and luxuriance of growth, and not only cures Scald Head, Itching Humors, Tetter Sores, Dandruff, etc., but averts them, and prevents the hair falling off and turning gray.

PREMIER BRISSON ANNOUNCES THE POLICY OF THE NEW MINISTRY.

Paris, A ril 7 .- Prime Minister Brisson has enunciated the programme of the new Cabinet. It contemplates the revision of the Constitution of 1881, the abolition of the Senate, liberty of the press, secularization of religious property, asparation of Church and State, reform of the judiciary, compulsory education, taxation for revenue and the reduction of taxes upon articles of Henry Brison, President of the Counci read before the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon a formal statement of the policy ingreed proper by the new Ministry. In regard to China, the statement declared that France would demand from the Chinese complete respect for all French ri hts resulting from treaties made by France with Annam and China concerning Tonquin and which China had recognized as valid by the Fournier convention of 1884. France would be happy if amicable negotiations sufficed to attain this respect for French rights, but the end would be attained by arms if necessary. The Government, however, was resolved not to modify the charactor of the French expedition in Tonquin without the approval of the Chambers. Concerning E cropean affairs, the declaration states that the French Government would by an attentive and circumspect policy seek to guarantee Franco's position as one of the very first Powers in all questions occupying European attention. M. Brisson concluded this statement by asking the Chambers to vote the Government the remainder, amounting to $30,000,000, of the credit asked for on account of the operations in Toucuin.

He then addressed the gathering and told them that they would be sorry for having hissed him. He said he would telegraph Parnell at Cork an account of what had occurred in Dublin, and they would see what he result would be. Soon after this the Prince and Princess of Wales were driven just the City Hall. On their way to the railway station they were greeted with tulmultuous and prolonged cheering.

Dublin, April 14. - The Prince and Princess of Wales on their way to Cork to day received an enthusiastic reception. At Lismore, in the counties of Cork and Water-He ford, 300 laborers presented an address of welcome. At Dungarvan, when the train bearing the royal party passed, all the vessels in the bay lowered their flags. At Kilmathemas, when the royal party went by, a black flag was hoisted over Tempernice hill, but the loyalists made good demonstration. The Prince and Princess then went to Carraghmore. In Cork most of the streets were spanned by triumphal arches and a majority of the houses were adorned with flags in honor of the advent of the. royal visitors.

Cork, April 15 .- The Prince of Wales arrived in this city to-day. The sun is shining brightly and the weather is all that could be desired for anch an occasion. The railway station and the streets in its vicinity were crowded with people awaiting the arrival of the royal party, and when the train bearing them draw into the station it was grouted with hearty cheers. An address of wolcome was delivered and much enthusiasm

The Prince and Princess of Wales did not repeat their Dublin traumph in Cork. Everything within the power of the Loyalsts to do was done to make the recention a success, and the managers of the demonstration remained up most part of the night to make sure of their arrangence ts. When the Prince and Princess arrived from the railway station, and after their arrival in the city they were greated with cheer after cheer. During their progress in the parade. workmen and boys ran alongside of their carriage and kept up their cheering to drawn the hisses of the Nationalists, who lined the entire route and made continual demonstrations. The conduct of the lenguers proused the Loyalists to a high pitch of enthusiasm and they made the streets roar with their shouts of welcome. The wonder is that there was no violent breach of the perco during the royal progress, for it proceeded amid a continual warfare of words and taunts between the Loyalists and Nationalists, with the number about equally divided. It is thought that the presence of the Princess and her ladylike graciousness to the people along the streets were the elements that conquered Irish

John O'Connor, the Nationalist member of Parliament for Tipperary, marched at the head of the procession of leaguers, who closely followed the royal procession and sang 'God Save Ireland' every time the Loyalists or their hordes started up 'God

Save the Queen. London, April 15. - Up to this evening there was a feeling of relief in Government circles over the news from Cork, which all tended to show that the visit of the Prince of Wales to that city had passed off quietly and had evoked an unexpected amount of enthusiasm. Early in the evening the Government officials declared that the attempts of the Nationalists to oraganize any opposition had resulted in a failure and the extent of the loyalist demonstration was surprising. These declarations were hardly uttored before the telegraph brought reports of rioting in various parts of the city, and the reports are becoming more alarming every hour. As an open carriage containing the prince was crossing Parnell bridge, some one in the crowd threw an onion at his Royal Highness. The missile missed the Prince, but hit one of the footmen behind the carriage; and the crowd cheered, During the afternoon a detective arrested a man who was throwing stones at the said that the Prince of Wales was coming Loyalist procession. A mob was speedily formed and attempted to rescue the prisoner. The detective fired his revolver, but without bitting any one, and succeeded in taking his prisoner to the Police Court. where he was promptly released on bail furnished by the Mayor of Cork.

Early in the evening the Nationalists held a mass meeting, where inflammatory speeches were made and the latest London newspapers containing accounts of the royal progress were burned in a bunfire. After the mass meeting the Nationalists scatter. ed through the city in parties numbering from fifty to 500 men. Doors and windows were smashed, flags and decorations were taken down and heaped on blazing bonfires and many gan stores were broken into for the purpose of arming the mob. Policemen, when encountered singly or in small squads, were attacked and beaten unmercifully with their own truncheons. In many cases the police rallied and charged desperately upon the mob, but they were invariably surrounded and repulsed. The police then resorted to the free use of their revolvers and bayonets. It was handto-hand lighting of the most desperate sort, the police standing back and receiving and inflicting terrible injuries.

At midnight the streets were practically in possession of the mob. The policemen who remained uninjured could not attempt to do more than maintain their positions and fight on the defensive. In addition to attacks from the crowds in the streets the police were exposed to murderous volleys. of stones from windows, house tops, and other points of vantage. The belief at midnight was that the atreets could not be cleared without the use of artillery.

London, April 16-4 a. m.—The rioting at Cork has been suppressed. Many arrests were made, and the hospitals are full of wounded policemen and rioters.

THE CHINA REVIEW.

PUBLISHED BI-MONTHLY, TENTH YEAR.

THIS Review, which was intended to meet the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuance of ' Notes and Queries on China and Japan, has reached its Thirteenth Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are uppermost in the minds of students of the 'Far East' and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous of bacquiring trustworthy information. It includes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new doparture has been taken, and the Review now gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers. It was thought that by extending the Magazine would be madentore generally The Review department receives special attention, and endeavours are made to p esent a careful and concise record of Literature on China etc.; and to give critiques embodying sketches of the Most Cargo will be received on board until 4 recent works on such topics. the scope of the Review in this direction,

The Notes and Queries are still continued and form an important means of obtaining from and dilfusing among students knowledge on obscure points.

The Correspondents' column also affords farther and greater facilities for the interchange of views and discussion of various Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, or any of the Modern Languages are received. The papers are contributed by the members of the various Consular, the Imperial Customs, and Hongkong Services, and also by the Missionary bodies amongst whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is assiduously cultivated. Amongst the regular contributors are Drs. Chalmers, Ettel, Bretschneider, Hirth, and Hance, Professor Legge, and Messrs Balfour, Watters, Stent, Phillips, MacIntyre, Groot, Jamic-Faber, Kopsch, Parker, Playfair, Giles, and Piton, -all well-known names, indicative of sound scholarship and thorough mastery of their subject.

The China Review for September-October maintains the high standard excellence which characterises that publiand altogother forms a very interesting and readable number. Mereorologists will find an interesting and valuable contribution by Dr. Fritsche, on "the Amount of Precipitation (Rain and Snow) of Peking," showing the results of observations made at the Imperial Russian Observatory at Peking, from 1841 to 1880. "Notes on the Dutch Occupition Consular Invoices to accompany Cargo of Formosa," by Mr. Geo. Phillips, contains some interesting information, although much of it is second-hand. The Notices of New Books include a most generous and approciative review of "The Divine Classic of Nan-Ilua," and the Notes and Queries are as usual very interesting. - North-China

Daily News. A substantial and reliable Review which all students of China and the Chinese would do well to patronise.'-Chrysanthemum.

The November-December number of the China Review contains less variety than usual, but the few articles are very interest ting. The opening paper by Mr Herbers A. Giles on "The New Testament in Chinese" treats of a question that must necessarily be of great importance in the eyeof all missionaries. . . Mr E. H. Parker's "Short Journeys in Szechuen are continued, and a goodly instalment of these travels in the interior of China given. Mr F. H. Balfour contributes paper of some length entitled "The Emperor Cheng, founder of the Chinese Empire," which will be read with genuine interest by students of Chinese history. A few short notices of New Books and a number of Notes and Cherics, one of which "On Chinese Oaths in Western Borneo and Java" might appropriately have been placed under a separate heading, complete
